

Introduction to fluorescence imaging for the analysis of living cells

Prof. Jean-Yves CHATTON

Dept. Fundamental Neurosciences, Univ. Lausanne

- The course will be given online, along with one in-person Q&A session at the end of the course
 - Recorded video lectures (ca. 2-hour each week) available every week from Tuesdays on
 - In person/hybrid Q&A session with Prof. Chatton on February 9, 2024 (12:15 -14:00)
- Lectures will be given in English
- Validation of ONE credit for students of the local doctoral schools (FBM and LNDS)

Topics per week:

- 9 January 2024 : Basics of transmitted light and fluorescence microscopy
- 16 January 2024 : Confocal microscopy
- 23 January 2024 : Modes of image formation, acquisition, signal sampling
- 30 January 2024 : Dynamic recording of cellular functions by fluorescence imaging
Intracellular ion imaging and cellular signaling.
Issues related to imaging of living cells
- 6 February 2024 : Other optical applications (proposed topics):
Fluorescence recovery after photobleaching (FRAP), photoactivation - optogenetics, multiphoton microscopy, fluorescence resonance energy transfer (FRET), optical contrasting methods (phase contrast, DIC), super-resolution microscopy
- 9 February 2024 12:15-14:00 (FRIDAY): Q&A session in person / hybrid
(Petit Auditoire DNF, rue du Bugnon 9, 1005 Lausanne)

Registration: register before January 5, 2024 via the link <https://tinyurl.com/FluorescenceImaging>

→ Admission to the course is free and open to anyone interested

Course materials:

- available on Moodle: <https://moodle.unil.ch/course/view.php?id=29154>
- log in with your institutional address (UNIL, CHUV, EPFL)
- click on "Faculté de Biologie et de Médecine" > "Ecole doctorale / doctoral school" > "Lemanic Neuroscience Doctoral School"
- course materials will be stored under "Introduction to Fluorescence Imaging for the Analysis of Living Cells"
- the login password will be sent to registered participants the day before course start. Please contact Ulrike.toepel@unil.ch in case of problems.
