

Mini-Symposium: Language, Cognition, and Perception: Exploring the Intersections of Grammar, Time, and Learning

March 7, 2025

10-12h

UNIMAIL Geneva, Room M4354

Organized by Julie Franck & David Gyorgy (UNIGE)

The mini-symposium hosts three talks of renowned experts in the field of psycholinguistics and language acquisition who will share their research with local students. Questions and discussions welcome!

- | | |
|-------------|---|
| 10.00-10.30 | Antonella Sorace (University of Edinburgh & UCL, UK): Second language learning and native language change: what do they have in common? |
| 10.30-11.00 | Sonja Kotz (University of Maastricht, NL): Comparative perspectives on time and rhythm perception and cognition |
| 11.00-11.30 | Doug Saddy (University of reading, UK): Differential sensitivity to grammar driven structure |
| 11.30-12.00 | Roundtable discussion with speakers |

Credit information

LNDS candidates: 0.25 ECTS for active participation

Non-LNDS students: Please verify with your study program

Registration (for credits)

Via the link: <https://forms.gle/t8FtNcSViUvNbRtBA> or QR-code

